RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Application of Meta-Learning in Diagnosing the State of Five Zang Organs in Traditional Chinese Medicine, 2021 Guangdong Province Key Field Special Project (Natural Science)

Supervisors: Prof. Yue Feng

Sep. 2022- May. 2024

- Description: Developing a clinical database to digitize TCM's five Zang organs' characteristics, using AI for objective diagnostic methods and meta-learning algorithms.
- My Role: Research and implementation of TCM tongue diagnosis, while also assisting in facial and pulse diagnosis research, including image annotation, data preprocessing, model construction, and deployment.
- Achievements/Conclusions: Accumulated extensive practical experience. (Tongue diagnosis) AUC of 84.56%, overall F1 score of 84.12%, average F1 score per category of 64.32%, and model speed of 0.7s.

Intelligent TCM Research Intern (Jiangmen Central Hospital)

Internship

Supervisors: Prof. Yue Feng and Dr. Shuangsheng Zhang

Sep. 2022-July. 2023

- Collection and Annotation: Captured images of patients' tongues using a TCM tongue diagnosis device. Annotated the collected tongue diagnosis images using the LabelMe tool.
- Augmentation: Utilized OpenCV for rotation, translation, scaling, and flipping to expand the dataset and increase the diversity of image samples.
- Segmentation: Employed an attention pooling (MPA-Net) combined with FPN method, with the network model built on the MMSegmentation framework.
- Results: Achieved an accuracy of 99.84%, a 0.11% improvement over UNet, with an average Dice coefficient of 98.91%, a 0.78% improvement over UNet.
